Breathe With Me

Ágata Subirats Author
Carlos Lluch Illustrator

Beascoa, February 2022
 Hardcover, 247 x 247 mm, 48 pp

| Stories for learning to breathe.

Learning to relax can be complicated. If it's hard for grown-ups, imagine how difficult it must be for kids. Ágata Subirats —creator of MamaYoga and an expert in postpartum yoga, prenatal yoga, yoga for mothers and yoga for children— shares the key for children and families to be calm and relaxed together: learning to breathe.

With a series of stories dedicated to different emotions, body parts and times of day, parents can help their kids lower their heartrate, breathe deep and focus on being calm. Each story is a guided breathing exercise that the whole family can easily follow. Perfect for bedtime or quality family time.

- The author is a #1 family yogi in her genre on YouTube Spain.

EL DÍA QUE MAX SE BEBIÓ EL SOL

Hoy Max se ha despertado de mal humor. Tiene sueño y no quiere ir al cole. Su madre le prepara su desayuno favorito: pan con chocolate. ¡Mmm! Pero a él hoy nada le parece bien.
 —Este desayuno no me gusta —dice Max enfadado.

Tampoco quiere ponerse la camiseta tan chula del monstruo verde, que siempre lleva con ilusión.
 —¡Esta camiseta nooo! —grita Max.
 Ni sus zapatillas de correr superrápido ni cepillarse los dientes ni lavarse la cara ni nada de nada.
Hoy a Max le parece todo un rollo.
 Mamá sabe que hoy no ha dormido bien, y aunque él no lo sepa, está demasiado cansado. Cuando estamos cansados, todo se nos hace una montaña.

Lia Ditches the Diaper

Anna Estapé Author
Arancha Perpiñán Illustrator

B de Blok, March 2022
Hardcover, 250 × 250 mm, 48 pp

A picture book about ditching the diaper.
A respectful story about growing up
by renowned pediatricist Anna Estapé.

Ditching the diaper is a very special chapter in a baby's life. It's a moment of change and marks an important transition.

Anna Estapé—a pediatricist and expert in respectful parenting—tells the story of Lia, a girl who's starting to realize what's happening inside her body when she does her business.

With her parents' help, Lia learns what happens in her diaper and how she can start to control it.

Lia Ditches the Diaper is a story for children and parents who believe in respectful, loving parenting, with non-punitive limits. A book based on the theory of respectful parenting and empathetically accompanying children as they develop.

Who Am I?

The Sea

Pedro Mañas Author
Katia Klein Illustrator

Beascoa, February 2022
Hardcover, 220 × 220 mm, 32 pp

“The Storm rides a lightning bolt, sleeps on a cloud, snores thunder and, like the Forest, has his own music”.

In Who Am I?, Pedro Mañas shares a poetic exploration of a landscape or natural phenomenon (the forest, the moon, storms, the sea, etc.) but with a twist: the poetic voice is the natural element itself, personified as a child. Thus, in these books, we meet the Storm, the Forest, the Moon, the Sea, etc.

- Stresses the importance of the five senses: what the child smells, hears, touches, sees and tastes.

The Sun

Pedro Mañas Author
Katia Klein Illustrator

Beascoa, April 2022
Hardcover, 220 × 220 mm, 32 pp

Discover the Sun through the poetic riddles of the series

Every morning, the sun paints with a different color. He's the first to arrive and the last to leave, and he sees the whole world from so far away he thinks we're all as tiny as ants. Where will he go when it storms? Will he hide in a seashell?

Infinity

Pablo Bernasconi

Sudamericana, July 2018
Softcover, 160 × 225 mm, 64 pp

Another masterpiece by Pablo Bernasconi, finalist for the prestigious Hans Christian Andersen Prize 2018.

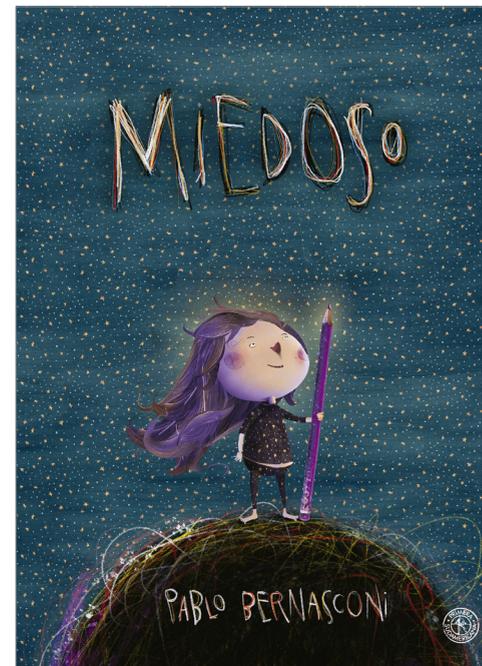

What is infinity? Is it far away or closer than we think? Pablo Bernasconi combines his marvelous illustrations with a poetic text that tries to put into words what neither children nor grown-ups are truly able to comprehend: infinity.

- An album book with unforgettable sensitivity and refinement to read and treasure.

Pablo Bernasconi has great design and an inventive use of materials that combines to create adventurous books that you can dive into and read and play within.

Scaredy-cat

Pablo Bernasconi

Sudamericana, October 2021
Softcover, 160 × 225 mm, 65 pp

Why is fear fearful? Do we always have to be brave? What are fears for? What form do they take? What do they feed on? I am brave, but sometimes... I am afraid and yet...

Underneath Nina's bed lives a huge, enormous monster. It has thick nose hairs which poke out between orange snot. It has nine legs: one crocodile leg, one quail leg, three Chihuahua legs, two giraffe legs, one zebra leg and the last one is also a zebra leg, but from another zebra.... But this monstrous monster never leaves its den. Do you know why...?

I Have the Best Dad in the World

A Customizable Book

Ana Zurita

Beascoa, February 2022
Hardcover, 200 × 230 mm, 32 pp

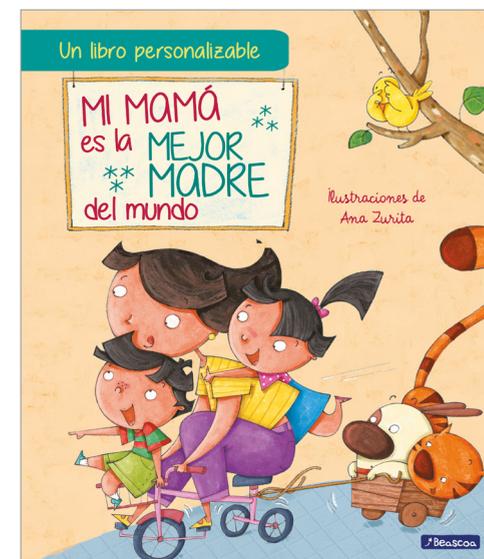

I'm sure your dad is amazing too. With this interactive and customizable book, you'll be able to tell him how much you love him and why.

My dad carries me on his shoulders when I'm tired. My dad taught me to ride a bike and tie my shoes. My dad builds sandcastles bigger than anything you can imagine. When I'm sick, my dad sits beside me on the bed and plays with me and makes up voices for my dolls.... My dad is the best dad in the world.

I Have the Best Mom in the World

A Customizable Book

Ana Zurita

Beascoa, April 2022
Hardcover, 200 × 230 mm, 32 pp

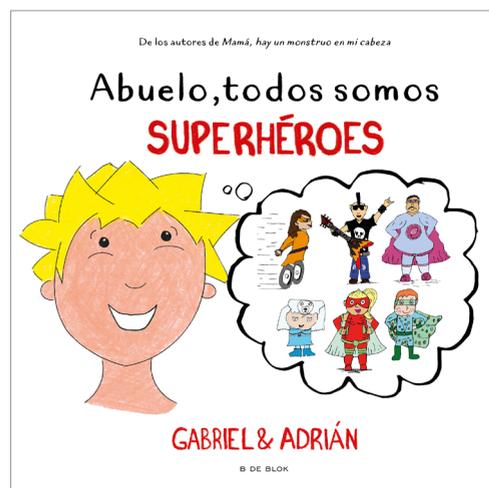

A special gift for Mother's Day.

My mom knows how to make me laugh in the morning. My mom brushes my hair one hundred times in a row every night. My mom lets me listen to my music the whole time we're in the car. My mom knows that sometimes I really want to do something even if I don't say so. My mom knows I'm hungry before I do... My mom is the best mom in the world.

Cuando vamos a la playa, mi mamá me pone crema por todo el cuerpo para que el sol no me quemé y me ponga roja. Y luego juega conmigo a buscar caracolas, construir castillos y saltar las olas. Ella preferiría tomar el sol tumbada en la toalla, pero siempre elige jugar conmigo.

Grandpa, We're All Superheroes

Gabriel & Adrián

B de Blok, May 2022
Board book, 220 x 220 mm, 64 pp

The self-published phenomenon from Amazon!

From the authors of Mom, There's a Monster Inside My Head!; Dad, I Hope I'm Lucky; and Son, Life is a Gift comes a book full of grandparents to help us cherish these important figures in our children's lives.

Like the books that came before it, Grandpa, We're All Superheroes tackles a complicated question in a way that's simple and understandable for little ones.

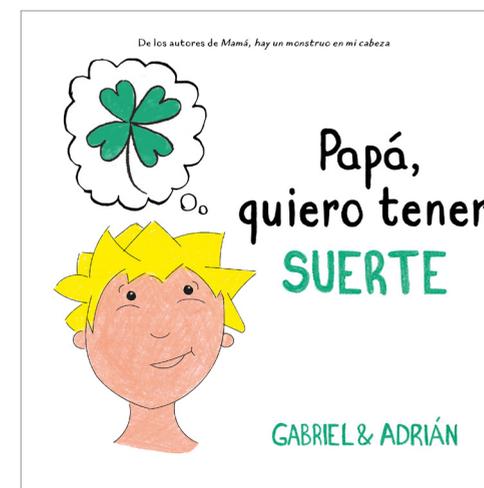

- A book that works on self-esteem and emotional management in children.

Tom se lo estaba pasando muy bien en el circo, hasta que salió un payaso con el pelo azul. Todos se metían con él y se reían a carcajada limpia, incluso su abuelo.

Tom no entendía por qué se reían del payaso. Le recordaba a lo que le pasaba a él en el colegio.

Dad, I Hope I'm Lucky

B de Blok, March 2020
Hardcover, 220 x 220 mm, 64 pp

The self-published phenomenon that has become a children's best-seller.

Following the successful book, Mom, There's a Monster Inside My Head!, the authors delve further into the frustrations, negative thoughts and feelings that arise during childhood. The aim of this story is to impart the values of work and effort to families and children, showing them that they are luck's best allies.

- A truthful book that hits close to home, fruit of two children's own experiences.

Mom, There's a Monster Inside My Head!

B de Blok, September 2019
Hardcover 220 x 220 mm, 48 pp

We all have a scary monster in our heads that tells us ugly things and drags us down. But we also have good monsters who encourage us to try again.

Eight-year old Gabriel crafted this tale to help other children overcome their frustrations and tempers when something doesn't turn out quite right.

- Gabriel and Adrián's parents published this book themselves, which is now a sales success with more than 5,000 copies sold in six months.

I'm Fed Up... and So Is Mom!

Bea Taboada Author
Viv Campbell Illustrator

B de Blok, April 2022
Hardcover, 270 x 300 mm, 48 pp

A picture book about real families, boring routines and complaining by Bea Taboada.

The protagonist of this picture book is fed up with getting her hair cut, eating food with so many vitamins it's turned green and going to bed early... But her mom... is fed up too! She's fed up with gray hairs, the calorie-counting and the early mornings, for example.

"So it's okay to say I'm sick of something, Mom?"
"Of course, I'm sick of lots and lots of things!"

I'm Fed Up... and So Is Mom! is a precious story about what motherhood and childhood are really like, a tool for working through the emotions that accompany us throughout our lives. It gives children space to express their complaints and frustrations, because life isn't perfect... and that's just the way it should be!

—Mamá, ¿quieres que te cuente un secreto?
No quiero celebrar mi cumpleaños.

—¿Y eso por qué?

—Porque me da mucha vergüenza
soplar las velas y que todos me miren.

—Antes yo tampoco quería celebrar mi cumpleaños. Pero luego me di cuenta de que siempre tenemos que
celebrar hacernos mayores,
cumplir años y que
nos vean crecer.

My Tiny Universe: My House

Mamen Marcén

Penguin Kids, March 2022
Boardbook, 160 x 160 mm, 12 pp

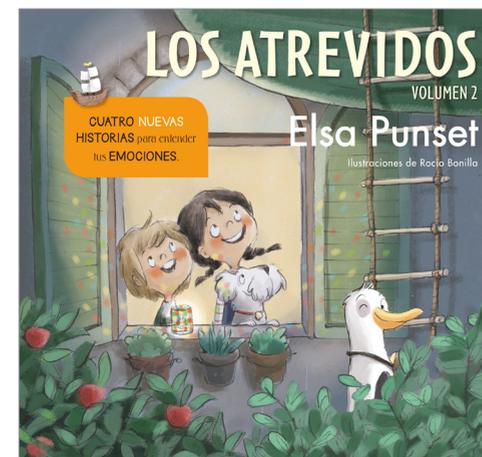

A boardbook picture dictionary with all the vocabulary babies really hear during their first year of life, and the things that really make up their tiny universe.

There are plenty of picture dictionaries in bookstores, and they tend to be boardbooks that let kids and parents point to the image they associate with the sound: giraffe, moon, crocodile... But in our daily life there aren't many crocodiles, that's just the truth. In this little boardbook/picture dictionary, kids and parents can point to things they see every day, starting with their neighborhood: slide, bakery, park...

- A new concept: a realistic boardbook consistent with alternative pedagogies and real-life images and situations that children will recognize from their own experience.

The Intrepids

Elsa Punset Author
Rocío Bonilla Illustrator

Beascoa, November 2020
Hardcover, 218 x 210 mm, 48 pp
Rights sold: China (Beijing Baby-Cube), Greece (Pedio), Italy (Brioschi), Poland (Mamania) and Ukraine (Kalamar)

A useful tool for children and parents to explore their own emotions.

The Intrepids are Alexia, Tasi and their dog Rocky. Together with the emotions coach, the seagull Florestán, each night they face fun and frenzied challenges that will help them learn how to handle their emotions: in other words, give them names, calm them down and transform them.

Elsa Punset, specialist in Emotional Intelligence, combines in this collection adventures for children to enjoy with the workshop of emotions, in which the whole family will discover clues and resources to improve their emotional intelligence.

Dina the Tyrannosaurus

#2 Dina Is Really Mad

#1 Dina Is Really Afraid

Marisa Morea

Beascoa, March 2022
Hardcover, 280 x 240 mm, 48 pp

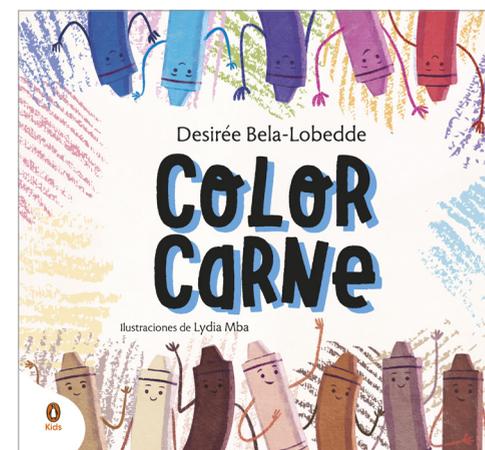

A story about anger, friendship, diversity and the importance of asking for help when you need it.

Dina Is Really Mad is the title of the first book in the series Dina the Tyrannosaurus, a collection of picture books about how to handle our feelings, featuring one of children's favorite animals as the star: a dinosaur.

Dina is a T-Rex, the most fearsome dinosaur in the wild. Other dinosaurs know that Dina's always in a bad mood, but they're never really sure why. One day, they find out: Dina's arms are so short she can't even scratch her itchy nose. It's really annoying!

- Written in capital letters to help children who are learning to read.
- This series is focused on the value of friendship and the importance of asking for help whenever you need it, and offering to help whenever you can.

Skin Color Crayon

Desirée-Bela Lobedde Author Lydia Mba Illustrator

Penguin Kids, April 2022
Hardcover, 205 x 205 mm, 48 pp

Because there isn't just one skin color, there are many.

A crayon shows up on the first day of school and thinks all the kids will use it to color pictures of themselves. But it's wrong. This is an overdue conversation in our society, especially when it comes to our little ones, helping them to unlearn stereotypes they shouldn't have been taught in the first place. This is a story about putting yourself in someone else's skin, learning that we're all different and recognizing that's something to celebrate.

A book by Desirée Bela-Lobedde, author of the successful Being a Black Woman in Spain.

En la fábrica de los colores, todos los colores están nerviosos y preparándose para el primer día de cole. Les han dicho que su trabajo es muy importante: ayudar a representar la realidad.

Color Azul pintará cielos claros, mares y ríos,
Color Verde, la hierba y los árboles,
y Color Amarillo sueña con pintar soles radiantes.

AHORA DINA SABÍA QUE LOS
DINOSAURIOS SIEMPRE ESTARÍAN
ALLÍ PARA ESCUCHARLA Y AYUDARLA.

What Do I Need When ...

#1 What Do I Need When I Get Angry?

Tania García Author
Núria Aparicio Illustrator

Beascoa, February 2022
Boardbook 200 × 260 mm, 64 pp

A picture book based on respectful and conscious education.

When Dami gets angry, she screams, cries, throws herself to the floor, kicks, pulls at her hair... But she is not behaving badly, she is just expressing her emotions.

The author explains to us what children need when they get angry and, thus, what parents should do in these moments to understand them and experience it with them.

#7 in kids' books in Spain.
4th reprint.

#2 What Do I Need When I'm Afraid?

Beascoa, April 2021
Hardcover 200 × 260 mm, 48 pp

The keenly awaited second illustrated album from Tania García, that tackles the second most common "problem" in families: the problem of fear.

Dami's little sister, Luna, tells us about what she expects from her adults whenever she is afraid of the dark, afraid of her first day at school, afraid of going to the doctor's, or the fear she feels when it is raining heavily. The author provides us with the answers and offers the best advice to ensure that adults know how to react and help children manage an emotion as intense and natural as fear.

A Big Fat Knot in Your Stomach

Alberto Soler,
Concepción Roger Authors
Núria Albesa Illustrator

B de Blok, May 2022
Hardcover, 200 × 260 mm, 48 pp

A picture book to help children identify and ask for help.

We all have feelings that make us freeze up. Sometimes we notice them in our head; other times, we notice them in our chest or stomach. As adults, we almost always have the tools we need to articulate that specific sensation that's overwhelming us, or at least identify it. Children, however, sometimes lack this capacity and spend far too long dwelling on painful feelings.

Following I'm Afraid, Soler and Roger are back to share another story to help children identify what they're experiencing.

- Uses metaphors to help children identify and explain what they're feeling so they can seek support.

By the same author:

I'm Afraid

Se dio cuenta de que a veces este nudo hacía que no respirara bien, le quitaba el hambre y hacía que le entraran ganas de llorar. ¡Tenía un nudo en el estómago!

HOLA. SOY TU NUDITO.
Y TÚ ERES UNA TORPE.
Y LA CLASE DE HOY IRÁ FATAL.

I Don't Want To Share

Marta Moreno

Penguin Kids, November 2021
Hardcover, 210 × 295 mm, 48 pp

A question all parents have to answer sooner or later: why do we have to share?

A delightful story in which Víctor heads off on vacation with his parents and, thanks to a housing swap, learns the advantage of sharing with others. The same Víctor who wouldn't let anyone touch his toys—not even his little brother—learns that generosity is one of life's greatest joys.

Because everything is more fun when you share.

- With illustrations by Marta Moreno, illustrator of the picture books Miriam Tirado: El hilo invisible and La fuente escondida.

Solo hay un tipo de juguetes que a Víctor no le gustan: los que se comparten. Sus juguetes son sagrados. Nunca se los deja a nadie, ni siquiera a su hermano pequeño, Paul, porque podría chuparlos, romperlos, perderlos o aún peor: ¡podría quedárselos!

—¡A dormir! —dice mamá—. A la cama, venga, ya seguirás mañana.

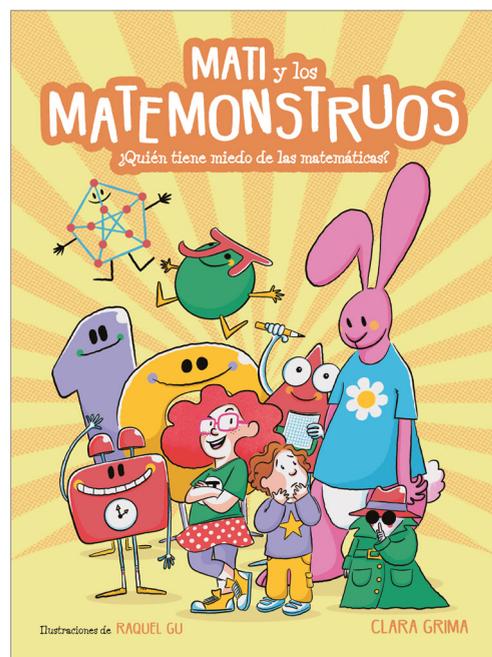

—Y recogerás lo que está por el suelo —añade papá—. ¿Por cierto, no eres muy mayor para el osito de peluche? ¿Y si se lo regalamos a Paul?

—¡NUNCA! ¡ES MÍO!

Victor se llena de rabia solo de pensar en dejar sus juguetes, y los esconde deprisa en un gran baúl de madera.

—Son MÍs juguetes.

Mati and the Mathmonsters

Clara Grima Author
Raquel Gru Illustrator

Beascoa, May 2022
Hardcover, 195 x 260 mm, 64 pp

| Who's afraid of a little math?

Miguel is starting a new school year and he knows this year he'll have to take the class he fears most: math. Fortunately, his sister Mati is absolutely amazing at addition, subtraction, multiplication and division. When Miguel asks her what her secret is, Mati tells him that when she was little, she decided to befriend the creatures she feared most: the mathmonsters.

- This book will encourage an interest and fondness for math among the youngest readers (kids ages 5 to 7) with puzzles, examples and exciting theories about numbers.
- Clara Grima has sold 10,000 copies (GfK)

Eligible for Institute Ramon Llull's Illustration Grant!

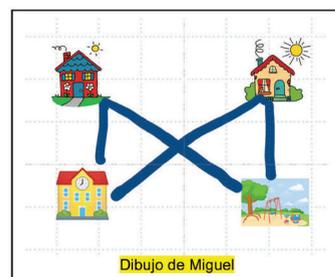

—¿Qué son grafos, Toski? —le preguntó Miguel.
—Son unos dibujos matemáticos, hechos con puntos y rayas, como yo, que sirven para resolver problemas muy importantes. Por ejemplo, cómo colocar los cables en una ciudad para que no se crucen entre ellos —respondió Toski haciendo aparecer una pizarra donde había dos casitas, un colegio y un parque.

—¿Serías capaces de pintar los caminos que van de cada casita al parque y al cole sin que se crucen los caminos? —les retó Toski. Miguel se puso a dibujar los caminos que había dicho Toski. Pintó, borró, volvió a pintar, volvió a borrar, pero al final...
—¡Es imposible! —exclamó Miguel.

Teacher, You're from Another Planet

Desirée Acevedo

B de Blok, April 2022
Hardcover, 230 x 290 mm, 48 pp

The best thing about teaching is learning. This new story by Desirée Acevedo makes the perfect gift for the teacher in your life!

Desirée Acevedo brings us a precious book about the work of teachers, the adults who guide us through childhood. After Eres como... and Semillas, this story centers teachers, giving them their due importance as the people in charge of teaching, raising and caring for our kids. A job whose importance has only been further highlighted during the pandemic.

Lucy. A Different Kind of Welcome

Pato Mena

Beascoa, September 2021
Hardcover, 210 × 280 mm, 48 pp

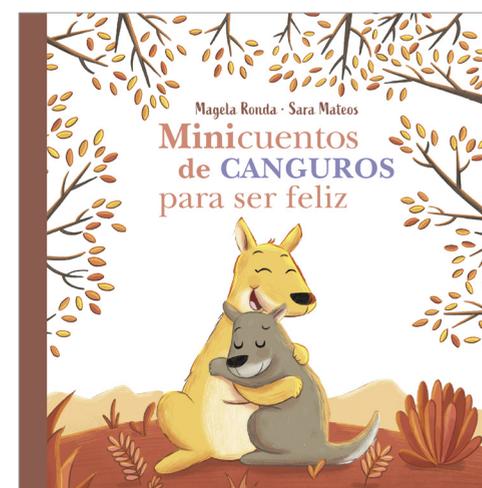

| Have you ever noticed we're all weirdos?

There's a new girl in school. There she is, sitting over there. Look how weird she is. The teacher says we have to be nice to her. We'll see if we can. But what if we look for things we all have in common? For example, that we all love carrots. Oh, wait, some of us prefer sandwiches, or apples, or croissants... How about another example: we all take the bus to school. Oh, wait, some of us ride our bikes, or we walk, or we take the subway. Hmm... That's so weird!

Maybe we aren't all as similar as we thought. Or maybe it's just that we're all different.

The Moon's Magic

Anna Morató García Author
Xavier Bonet Illustrator

Beascoa, October 2021
Hardcover, 230 × 300 mm, 32 pp

A story to help you achieve whatever you set out to do

“Why can we see the moon sometimes, even though it’s still daytime? And why can’t we see it other times, even though the sun has set?” César can’t find answers to these questions, so his mother decides to explain it to him using a beautiful fable about the magic we have within ourselves, and how it helps us make decisions without letting anyone tell us what we are or aren’t capable of.

After the success of Growing Up To Be... Happy, Growing Up To Be... Happy 2, Let’s Get Along, I Believe In You, Anna Morató brings us a new children’s book intended to be read as a family.

Los adversarios

Son también personajes muy importantes en una historia. Se oponen a los deseos del protagonista y los complican de cualquier manera imaginable. Suelen ser personajes odiosos que a menudo parecen poseer por la tierra sin ningún otro motivo que hacer el mal. Como veremos, tenemos varias opciones.

1 El monstruo.

Puede tratarse de un ser sobrenatural, como un dragón o un ogro, o simplemente una fiera superlativa, como el lobo feroz. Su objetivo es devorar al protagonista o a sus seres queridos y dispone de una gran fuerza física y ferocidad.

El villano.

En esta categoría entran las brujas de cuento y los reyes crueles. Suelen asociarse a la magia y a la inteligencia, y en muchas ocasiones pueden disponer de lugartenientes o seguidores que se enfrentan previamente al protagonista.

El adversario por error.

No es necesario que el adversario sea malvado. Son rivales que se enfrentan al protagonista por confusión o porque, en un inicio, están en bandos contrarios. Llegado el momento, se reconcilian con el héroe y pueden incluso llegar a ayudarlo en su propósito.

Ups, al final el ogro del cuento no come niños, sino brócoli y todo ha sido un malentendido. ¿Cómo habrá pasado esa lamentable confusión?

Grannies: Each in Her Own Way

Bea Taboada Author
Viv Campbell Illustrator

B de Blok, November 2021
Hardcover, 270 × 300 mm, 48 pp

A sophisticated non-fiction picture book with a universal theme: grandmothers.

Abuelas, a crossover picture book about the unconditional love that all grandchildren feel toward their grandmothers.

If there's one thing that all grandmothers have in common, it's their ability to elicit affection and give love to their grandchildren. Regardless of how and what grannies do, all grandchildren love their grandmothers simply for being who they are.

This story talks about different ways of being a grandmother and how each of them, in their own way, ends up creating an indissoluble link with their grandchildren.

2nd edition

Anna Llenas

Lumen, November 2021

Hardcover, 230 x 278 mm, 64 pp

Rights sold: Italy (Gribaudo), Portugal (PRHGE)

We're all born with a jewel within us. It's our internal me, our essence, the most precious things we possess.

As we grow up, the world makes us look outward, rather than inward at our own needs, emotions, reflections... and slowly, we lose our connection to our inner jewel.

Because no matter how many times we stumble, make a mistake or mess up, we shouldn't forget that if we have our inner jewel, we'll never be alone; we'll have ourselves for company.

Beascoa, February 2022
Hardcover, 280 × 240 mm, 48 pp

The latest book from the creative duo that gave us The Witch Who Didn't Want to Be a Princess.

An original picture book about highly sensitive people.

Hugo, like all children, is both special and normal. What makes him special is his ability to see, hear and feel with greater intensity. If someone else is happy, Hugo laughs; but if someone else feels bad, Hugo gets sad. This hypersensitivity is a problem for Hugo, and he tries to solve it by putting on a set of armor. But when you close yourself off, you miss out on some of the best parts of life. Hugo, was it worth putting on that armor?

The Boy Who Wanted to Give Hugs

Sonia Encinas Author
César Barceló Illustrator

Beascoa, May 2022
Hardcover, 223 × 250 mm, 32 pp

A story about sensitivity, masculinity and the importance of being yourself.

The Boy Who Wanted to Give Hugs is the first story by Sonia Encinas, a feminist mom, communicator and sexologist who talks about the challenge of raising your son with feminism and eschewing the standards of masculinity imposed on boys from a young age. Using a simple metaphor, the book teaches boys the importance of not shutting out their feelings, the bravery inherent to vulnerability and how sensitivity is essential if we want to understand each other and ourselves.

- A new, feminist perspective on masculinity.

Des que l'armadura havia arribat a la seva vida, les coses ja no l'afectaven; l'Hugo havia aconseguit el seu objectiu: SER FORT I IMMUNE A TOT.

Però la seva amiga Lia el trobava molt a faltar i la mare estava molt preocupada per ell. Era com si l'Hugo fos una altra persona; ara era insensible a tot i no semblava que li importés res ni ningú.

A més, havia fet amics nous. Els que abans se'n reien, ara l'acceptaven i fins i tot l'admiraven.

—Porque hay que ser muy valiente para ser sensible.

Rosalía And The Tooth That Wouldn't Fall Out

Arancha Perpiñán Illustrator

Beascoa, May 2021
Hardcover, 280 × 250 mm, 48 pp
Rights sold: China (PMPH)

A fun book about a wonderful moment of childhood: losing old teeth and getting new ones!

Little Rosalía looks inside her mouth and she's not happy. There's nothing broken in there! This delightfully fun illustrated story tells Rosalía's story, the tale of a little girl who wants her tooth to come out and grow up, and she'll stop at nothing until it happens. She dreams up every wacky idea she can think of, and in the end, she goes "toothless" in the most unexpected way.

- A rhyming book that uses humour to talk about children who want to be something they're not or who don't like something about themselves, always with a happy ending.
- The perfect book for the whole family that makes addressing important parts of child development fun.

A Magic Moment

Magela Ronda Author
Pilar Centeno Illustrator

Lumen, May 2022
Hardcover, 280 × 300 mm, 48 pp

There are some things we're not able to see, but that doesn't mean they don't exist.

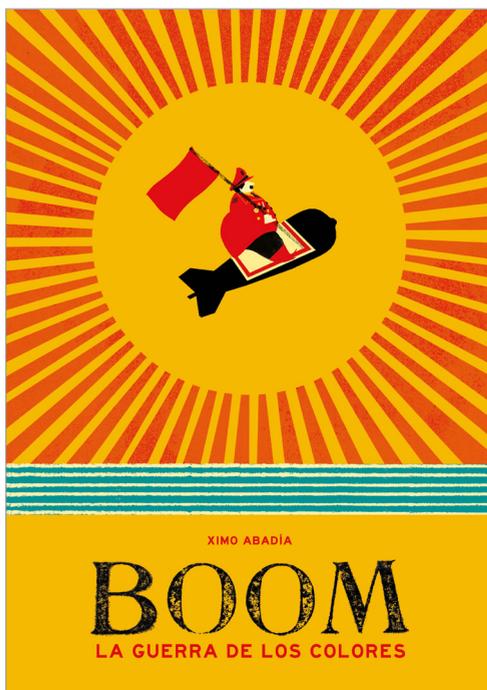

There are two sides to world, Here and There. They used to be together, but at some point, they got separated.

This is a love story: the two main characters live on opposite sides of the world. Her name is Brisa, she lives in a rational and logical world, but she's a young woman brimming with feeling and sensitivity; she thinks she sees fairies and that—don't act surprised—she has one on her shoulder, whispering pretty things into her ear. His name is Cosmo and he lives in a magic world filled with fantasy, but he's a logical, rational boy, and the instant he sees Brisa, his life will change forever.

Near and far, with space to see, find and lose each other, this is a beautiful, poetic story, that will stay with you for years to come.

In a house just like yours, live some very special elves

Mr Higgs lives alone... or so he thinks. In reality, he shares his home with some friendly elves –in secret!– who are filling it with sweets without him noticing. Baby Chocopete leaves chocolates everywhere, Azu Kiki makes candyfloss even when dreaming, and the fun-loving Plash and Krystal produce delicious creams and sugar glass –they are the elves of Home Sweet Home!– But things start to get complicated with the arrival of a mischievous elf, a guest with a dangerous pet and... a Band-Aid thief?

al acariciar el cristal, el caramelo aparecía bajo sus manos.

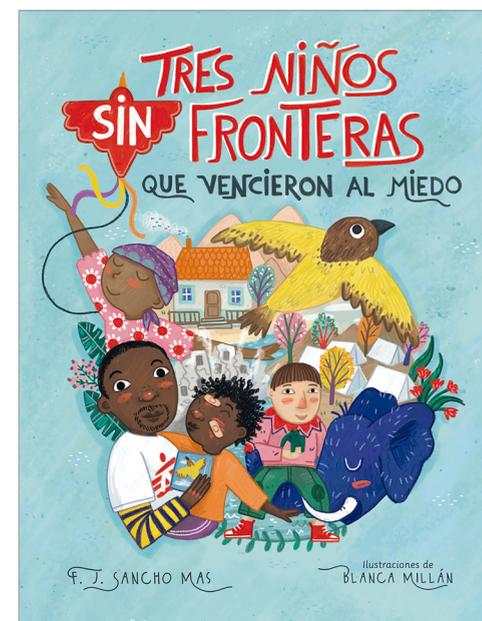

Así pues, aquella casa olía deliciosamente por todos los rincones. ¿Cómo era posible entonces que Mister Higgs («Patata» para ellos) no se diera cuenta? Pues porque, como canturreaba Azu Kiki con su voz aguda de duendejo:

«Patata no tiene olfato, ni tampoco perro o gato».

Al menos, de momento...

Three doctors in three different countries meet three kids who fight the things they dread most. Three adventures in which they will learn the best medicine that exists to beat your fears.

A storybook to open young readers' eyes to other realities, and to awaken curiosity, social commitment and solidarity within the family.

- 3% of profits from print sales will go to Doctors Without Borders.
- Three stories about real kids told by doctors from the organization, given a literary form by the author.

—¿Ped... pedote? —preguntó arrugando la frente.

—No, no. Pe-dia-tra, un médico de niños.

—Ah —sonrió Ahmed—. Eso es mucho mejor que ser un pedote.

—Pues eso, que ya verás que cuando sea pedote... —Esa vez fue a Ibrahim a quien se le escapó la palabra sin querer, y Ahmed trató de aguantarse la risa apretando los labios y, al hacerlo, se le formaron unos hoyucos en ambos cachetes. Ibrahim continuó:— Me iré a trabajar de médico a otros países. Cuidaré de los niños allí donde vaya.

A Ahmed se le fue apagando la risa poco a poco.

—Y ahora, ¿a qué viene esa cara? —le preguntó Ibrahim.

—Es que..., si te vas, ¿no volveré a verte?

—¿Qué dices! Claro que volveremos a vernos.

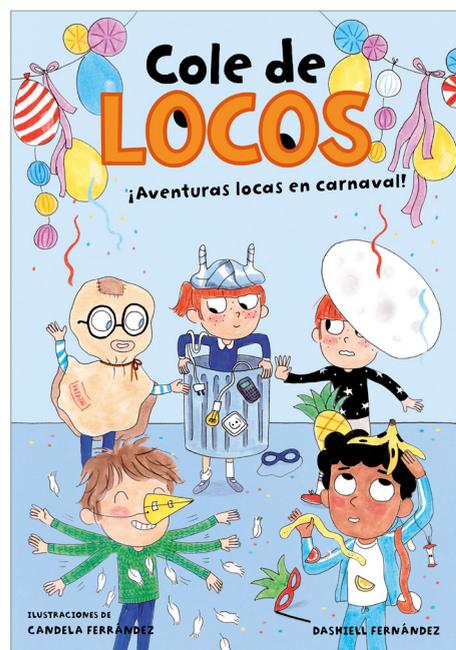

En cuanto me toque ir a alguna misión médica en África, te llevaré conmigo para buscar a tu elefante.

Ahmed miró de nuevo la senda-cicatriz que no podía tapan el bigote de su hermano y se sintió aliviado. Le preguntó cómo encontraría al elefante.

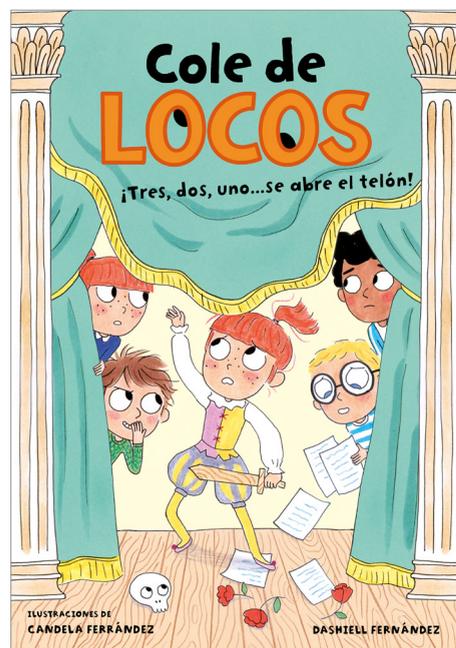

—Sé que hay lugares donde cuidan a los cachorros de animales que se han perdido. Y, si no, le preguntaremos a los niños. Son los que más saben de elefantes. Los animales muy grandes y los pequeños se llevan bien, ¿no lo sabías? ¿Por qué crees que los de los cuentos de mamá salvaban a los pescadores del barco encallado? Porque los pescadores pedían a los niños que llamaran a los elefantes.

Melo Moreno

Montena, October 2021
Softcover, 150 × 215 mm, 256 pp

| A touching YA story about the love between two young women

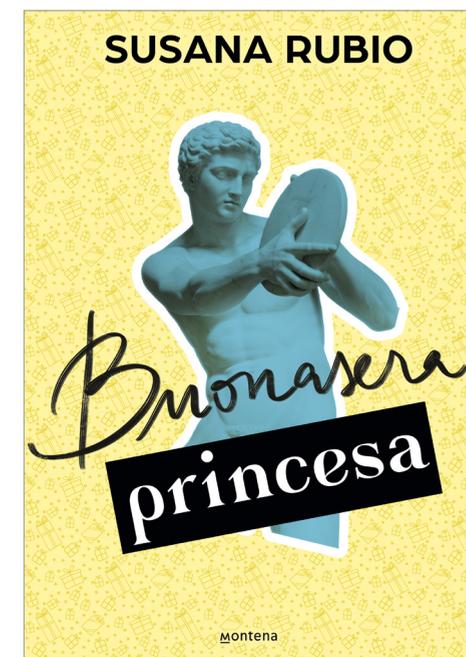

For Alex, moving to Barcelona for university was a change of pace like she'd never imagined: the city was completely different from the small pueblo where she grew up, and it felt so far from her boyfriend, her friends and all the other people she had known her whole life. But it's also where she meets Joana. After crashing into each other one day, they find they get along especially well.

Little by little, Joana and Alex get to know each other and become close. Alex begins to question how she should approach her life, what she truly wants and, most of all, who she really is.

This novel also includes plenty of friendship, gossip, fights, doubts, emotions... And a great love story, this time about two young women.

- A guaranteed success from an LGTBQ+ author whose only other book, a work of nonfiction, sold over 15,500 copies.

Dunes

#3 All My Dreams

Cherry Chic

Montena, January 2022
Softcover, 140 × 215 mm, 480 pp

Sea, passion and good romance next to a beach bar on the coast. This is the end of the Dunes saga, which has enamored so many readers.

The bad thing about growing up obsessed with Disney is that you get older. The good thing is that, as you grow up, you can choose to keep believing. Mario Dunes has spent his whole life preparing himself to find his ideal princess. In his imagination it's clear: she'll be sweet, giggly, brave and he'll like nothing better than to sit and watch a children's film together. Everything is going well, until she comes along and shows him that sometimes princesses wear black lipstick, have tattoos, are sharp-tongued and would rather stick pins in their eyes than watch a Disney film. This is a tale in which the princess does not want to be a princess and the prince is the one who is waiting for his true love. A story to dream, laugh and cry because, sometimes, happy endings require not one but many battles.

Cherry Chic

Montena, May 2022
Softcover, 140 × 215 mm, 480 pp

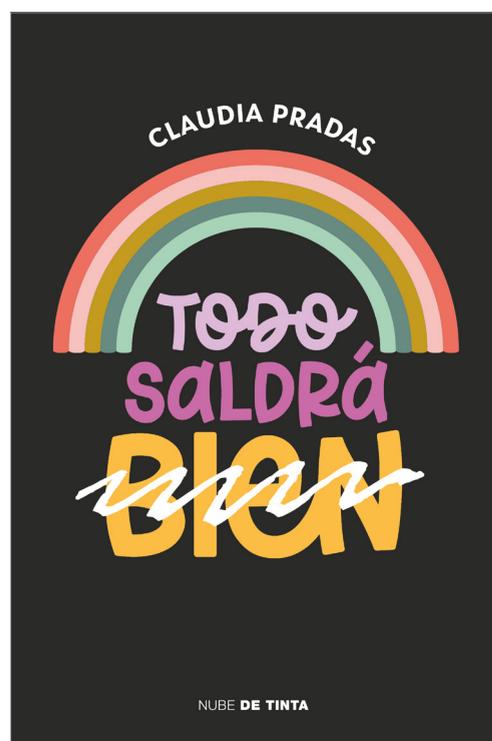

One of today's most successful authors returns... Cherry Chic is back!

A new Cherry Chic saga where the events take place in a small Oregon town: the mythical Rose Lake. Love and the struggle to start over in a new country will mark the pages of this new saga.

In Rose Lake there is a Free Library mailbox contest every Christmas and the neighbour with the most beautiful book box wins. There's an autumn festival that includes pumpkin auctions and axe chopping contests. There is only one restaurant, but it might just serve the best hot chocolate in the world. There is a lake, of course, surrounded by mountains and thick forests, and the population is barely more than a thousand people.

It is, according to Vera, the perfect village to make a comeback. According to Maia, it is a lost corner of the world, among the mountains of Oregon. According to Martin, it is the best place to be born in and to grow up. And according to Kellan... For him, Rose Lake is the most beautiful and painful place in the world.

Everything Will Work Out

Claudia Pradas

Nube de Tinta, June 2022
Softcover, 140 × 213 mm, 248 pp

A book that seeks to illuminate the darkest moments of the mental health epidemic plaguing our youth.

27% of respondents reported anxiety. 15% reported depression. 73% of the sample group felt the need to ask for help, but 40% of them did not do so because they did not know where to turn. According to the INE, suicide remains the main cause of death by external causes in Spain, with a incidence rate of 260 deaths per 100,000 inhabitants. In the midst of this health crisis we are living through, we believe it is important to give young people resources to take care of their mental health.

Through the adventures of a group of teenage friends, Claudia P., TikTok's psychologist, will address some of the most common disorders affecting young people and provide resources to treat them.

- An edition with a striking, youthful aesthetic that will be a first step on the road to therapy for all those who don't know where to turn in situations of despair.

Fat Isn't An Insult

Luisa Verdee

Alfaguara I&J, June 2021
Hardcover, 140 × 215 mm, 220 pp

A novel about a teenager who begins to discover the societal demands placed on her new body, and who embarks on a journey of body positivity and self-love.

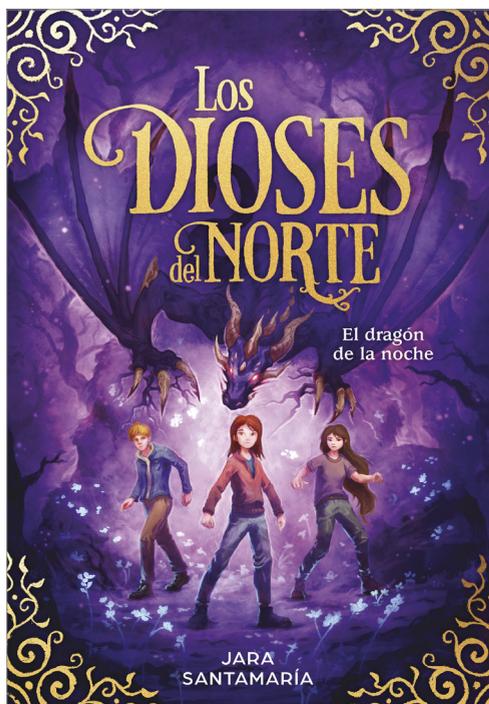

They wanted me to hate myself. Why? Because I'm fat. My name is Ámbar, and this is the journey I've been on since my body started changing. I'll tell you about the toughest moments, the happiest days and the times I questioned my own identity. And I'll tell you about discovering body positivity and self-love.

My family and friends, and even the salespeople at the mall, all pressured me to hate my body because it's "voluptuous," but I resisted. I did some thinking, and I decided I wanted to live a fat, powerful, happy life... That last part turned out to be the most difficult of all.

The most important thing I learned along the way is that "fat" isn't an insult. It's just another word in the dictionary.

Our Rainbow Skin

Belén Argaya

Beascoa, May 2021
Hardcover, 210 x 270 mm, 32 pp

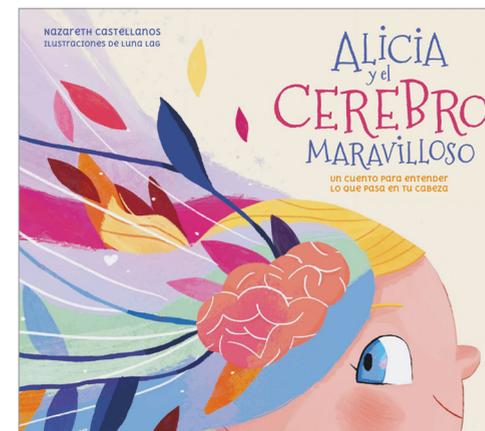

Just like rainbows, skin has lots of different colors. They don't make anyone better or worse, just different.

Our Rainbow Skin is a book for talking about the richness of difference, appreciating the things that set us apart and the things we share as human beings.

Children will understand why skin comes in different colors—a biological fact that doesn't make anyone better or worse—what benefits this diversity has for humanity and why everyone deserves to be treated equally, respectfully and compassionately.

Alice and her Wonderful Brain

Nazareth Castellanos Author
Luna Lag Illustrator

Beascoa, March 2022
Hardcover, 280 x 245 mm, 32 pp

A story for learning all about your brain.

We all know we have a brain in our heads, but what's it for? Did you know it's a forest? No, really: a forest of neurons! And did you know those neurons send letters to each other about how to give instructions to the rest of the body?

Learning about how the brain works helps us feed our own brains and use them well. In this book, neuroscientist Nazareth Castellanos uses simple metaphors to explain where emotions and thoughts come from, what it means to pay attention, and the best things we can do to take care of one of our bodies' most important organs during the most delicate stage of their development.

Nuestra estrella
 El Sol es una estrella de tamaño mediano y el cuerpo más grande del sistema solar.

Se formó junto con el resto de planetas y astros que giran a su alrededor a partir de una nube de elementos que flotaba por el espacio. Tan enorme era la nube, y tanto se apretó a sí misma gracias a la fuerza de gravedad, que su centro se transformó en una enorme bola de hidrógeno cuyo interior se incendió con energía, luz y calor. Desde entonces, el Sol no ha dejado de brillar. Algún día se apagará, pero para que eso ocurra... ¡aún faltan miles de millones de años!

Sol Invictus
 El Sol ha sido muchos dioses a lo largo de la historia. Conocido como Apolo o Helios desde los antiguos griegos, para nosotros su nombre proviene del latín, la lengua hablada por los antiguos romanos. Es el Sol Invictus, «el Inconquistable», que en invierno derrota a la oscuridad y trae días más largos y noches más cortas.

• Hoy en día sabemos que el Sol no es un dios ni una fuerza mística, sino una de las muchas estrellas que hay en el universo.

Activities and fun experiments to learn everything about the craziest phenomenon in the universe. Eclipses!

Learn about eclipses and deepen your understanding of the universe. What did eclipses mean for our ancestors, how and why do they happen, which were the most important ones in history? Learn many curious details!

By the same author:

Lo mismo pasa con los planetas. Desde que nacieron han estado dando vueltas alrededor del Sol con cierta velocidad. Si la velocidad de la Tierra fuera menor, nuestro planeta cedería a la fuerza de gravedad del Sol y terminaría ¡carbonizado! Si la velocidad fuera mayor, la Tierra escaparía y quedaría viajando por el espacio.

¡YUPIII, SOY UN SATÉLITE!

¡AYY! NO ME DAJEN LA MANO QUE PESA EN LA CADERA!

CONCLUSIÓN: LOS PLANETAS GIRAN ALREDEDOR DEL SOL A LA VELOCIDAD JUSTA PARA EQUILIBRAR EL TIRÓN QUE LES PRODUCE LA FUERZA DE GRAVEDAD SOLAR.

Gracias a Johannes Kepler e Isaac Newton, no solo tenemos una explicación de por qué los planetas giran alrededor del Sol, también sabemos que la fuerza de gravedad explica por qué la Luna da vueltas en torno a la Tierra y por qué todo el Sistema Solar recorre la galaxia ¡contigo incluido, que siempre vas viajando por el espacio! De hecho, debido a la fuerza de gravedad, cada hora que pasa recorres más de 100.000 kilómetros alrededor de una estrella llamada Sol, y unos 800.000 kilómetros (el doble de la distancia de la Tierra a la Luna) alrededor del centro de la galaxia. Estos viajes ocurren arriba del cohete más espectacular de todos: ¡la Tierra!

Ahora que una simple manzana te dio la explicación científica de por qué los objetos en el espacio orbitan otros cuerpos celestes, es muy fácil entender por qué se producen los eclipses.

YA QUE LA LUNA GIRA ALREDEDOR DE LA TIERRA Y LA TIERRA GIRA ALREDEDOR DEL SOL, ¿QUÉ PASARÍA SI SE DIERA LA COINCIDENCIA DE QUE EL SOL, LA LUNA Y LA TIERRA QUEDEN PERFECTAMENTE ALINEADOS EN EL ESPACIO?

MIGUEL ÁNGEL y David

Miguel Ángel Buonarroti era una bestia. Puede que no sea el calificativo más correcto, pero es el que más se ajusta. Lo de genio del Renacimiento, artista irrepetible, escultor insuperable... todo eso está muy bien y es verdad, pero da la impresión de que se queda corto. Era una bestia artística. Y él lo sabía desde pequeño, porque dijo aquello de "Mamá, quiero ser artista" cuando los padres se empearaban en que fuera comerciante o banquero para seguir con el negocio familiar.

Nadie se podía creer que la escultura de la Piedad la hubiera podido terminar un chaval de solo veintitrés años. La mayoría ponía en duda, después de ver la obra, que fuera suya. Así que, muy mosqueado, el joven Miguel Ángel se acercó a su escultura y grabó en la cinta que cruza el pecho de la virgen:

MICHAEL AGELUS · BONAROTUS · FLORENTIN · FACIEBAT
 (Miguel Ángel Buonarroti, florentino, lo king)

Por eso, cuando recibió una propuesta complicadísima y dijo que él podía con todo, lo creyeron. En realidad, fue el único escultor que aceptó esa oferta, porque ningún otro se atrevió. Pero Miguel Ángel dijo: "Yo puedo. Estos pringaos no, pero yo sí". Y recién estrenado el verano de 1503, cuando enseñó a los florentinos el David, demostró que, efectivamente, solo él podía ser capaz de semejarne bestialidad.

La escultura aún estaba sin terminar, pero ya era imponente y acogojante incluso sin rematar. No solo era muy grande, enorme... gigantesca para ser el David del mito bíblico, que se supone que tenía que ser delicadito y escuchimizado... es que tenía una cara de cabreo y un gesto de mala leche que imponía hasta mirarlo. Era como si te estuviera diciendo: "Si te acercas, te meto". Los que de verdad entienden de esto lo definen de forma más fina: "Terribilità michelangelésca". O sea, mala leche. Y encima, con esa postura medio desequilibrada, con todo el peso del cuerpo apoyado en la pierna derecha... También los expertos tienen nombre para esto: "Contrapposto". O sea, chulería.

La pregunta es por qué Miguel Ángel fue el único que se atrevió con el David. Pues porque se trataba de rematar algo que ya estaba hecho a medias, y eso no es nada fácil. Es mejor a veces empezar de cero que no recoger algo que ha hecho otro y que ha dejado a medias. Enseguida vamos a lo que pasó, pero antes, mejor presentar a David, que no es bueno dar todo por sabido.

La historia de David y Goliat es otro de los cuentos de la Biblia, que dice que David era un pastor jovencito, poquita cosa, flojucho... de la tribu de Judá, que se enfrentó con un gigante llamado Goliat, de la tribu enemiga de los filisteos. Que el gigante dijo:

¿Mandáis a este berrío a pegaros conmigo, que soy enorme?

↪ Efectivamente: la democracia ateniense de la que hoy nos jactamos no reconocía la ciudadanía de las mujeres.

La cerámica ática sirve de testimonio, de cápsula del tiempo. En ella pintaron imágenes de mujeres en un espacio interior. Por ejemplo, en la píxide —un pequeño recipiente de cerámica en el que se colocaban productos cosméticos o joyas— de figuras rojas. En el gineceo, aparecen seis mujeres en un interior, todas ellas realizando tareas que le estaban reservadas al sexo femenino. Reciben nombres de la mitología griega elevando así una escena cotidiana a un plano atemporal.

Píxide de Las Herodías / En el gineceo (500-470 a.C.) British Museum

Avanzando hasta la Edad Media, son dos hombres los que dejaron por escrito el lugar que debían ocupar las mujeres: Humberto Romans y Francisco de Barberino. Según estas fuentes, habrá un grueso de mujeres cuyo espacio será la casa, luego unas pocas religiosas que vivirán el encierro del convento, así como un corpus de mujeres que trabajará fuera de su propia casa. Sin embargo, estas últimas, criadas o siervas, siguen poblando lo doméstico, por lo que no ponen en jaque el dogma sexista.

Finalmente, se nombra a las meretrices, las únicas que han salido a ocupar lo que "es de ellos" de manera pecaminosa. Como religioso, Romans utiliza el ejemplo de María Magdalena para proponerles el arrepentimiento a través del retorno al único lugar que las hace virtuosas. La casa y la familia. Existe, de hecho, toda una iconografía en torno a "la mujer caída" que analizaremos más adelante.

Poco a poco se fueron creando una serie de requerimientos que toda mujer "de bien" debía cumplir. Entre ellos estaban "la sobriedad en el alimento, la modestia en el gesto, la parquedad en el uso de la palabra, el abandono del maquillaje y de los adornos, la restricción de los desplazamientos o el acceso limitado al mundo de la cultura y el trabajo". Se las va arrinconando así hacia el interior de la casa, retirándoles la capacidad de

Cuarto menguante - Conclusión

En cuarto menguante, la naturaleza se toma una pausa y se generan nuevamente mareas muertas en el océano. Esta pausa a veces es percibida como darse cuenta de algo y tener que tomar decisiones.

Si algo llegó a su fin en luna llena y no se soltó, es ahora donde se siente la necesidad de soltarlo con más fuerza.

Como es un momento de corte, también se usa para realizar acciones que requieren una conclusión: es un buen momento para cirugías que tengan que extirpar un cáncer, por ejemplo, o sacar una muela. Este es el momento del mes donde hay menos sangrado en general, por lo tanto, menos riesgo de hemorragias.

El cuarto menguante llama a la purificación y a hacer espacio. Llama a la reflexión. A la introspección.

Secretos...

Saber decir «no» es tan importante como decir «sí». En esta fase, desechas las células muertas y haces espacio para otras llenas de nueva vida.

Es el momento del mes donde se sangra menos, esto ayuda a que las cirugías sean menos arriesgadas.

Es el momento ideal para tomar decisiones. Todo está más tranquilo y eso genera claridad.

Fase ideal para...

- Sacar conclusiones. Esta fase es un puente entre lo que pasó y lo que viene
- Cirugías
- Tomar un momento para ti
- Desechar lo que no sirve

5. ¿Existen pastillas que hacen desaparecer la ansiedad para siempre?

A día de hoy, aún no se han descubierto. Existen fármacos que, recetados por psiquiatras, pueden ayudarte en momentos puntuales, pero deben ir siempre acompañados de la psicoterapia.

Los fármacos pueden ser de corta duración, con un efecto rápido tranquilizante, o de larga duración, que hacen que, en general, estés menos nervioso. Sin embargo, en el tratamiento de los trastornos de ansiedad la intervención de primera opción siempre debe ser la terapia psicológica.

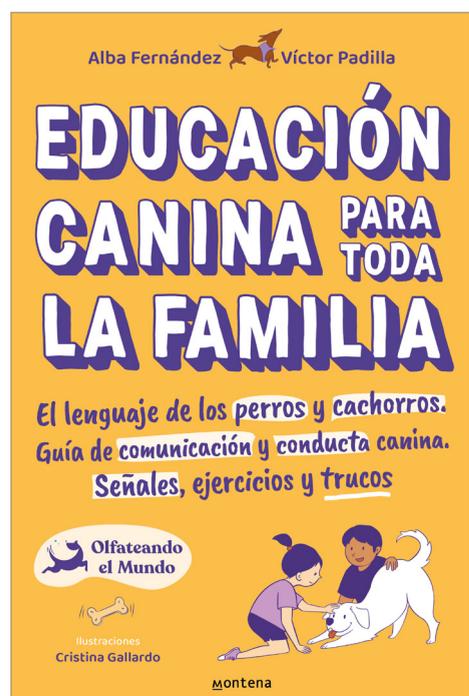

Además, tú tienes una oportunidad única: eres joven. Aprovecha que tu cerebro se está desarrollando: tienes una capacidad de APRENDIZAJE Y FLEXIBILIDAD excepcional para desplegar un conjunto de habilidades que te servirán, no sólo para los retos a los que te enfrentas ahora sino, para todos los que están por venir.

All kids want dogs. This is the only book that will teach them to understand their dogs and take care of them, so they can become our very best friends!

Do you want to understand your dog better? Do you want to talk to your dog? To train your dog the best way possible?

We're all familiar with the classic "WOOF! WOOF! WOOF!" But what does it really mean? Our pets have lots to tell us, and they want us to understand them. With this book full of tricks, illustrations and explanations, you'll be able to comprehend your dog's emotions, needs and behaviors, and you'll learn how to reply in kind.

Descubre qué hay en cada caja

Podemos hacer muchas variantes de este juego: colocar varias cajas y esconder comida dentro, colocar una caja llena de bolas de papel de periódico y ocultar la comida...

QUÉ NECESITAMOS

- Una caja de cartón
- Papel de periódico o ropa vieja
- Chuches muy apetitosas para nuestro perro
- Ganas de pasarlo bien

CÓMO LO PREPARAMOS

Debemos preparar el juego sin que nuestro perro nos vea. Por ejemplo, podemos dejarle en el comedor mientras nos vamos a una habitación a prepararlo.

En este caso, vamos a coger una caja de cartón y la llenaremos de bolitas de papel de periódico. También podemos meter dentro un trapo o una camiseta vieja y arrugada.

Cogemos las chuches de nuestro perro y las escondemos entre el papel o la ropa: por encima, por debajo, creando recovecos o bolsillos con la ropa doblada...

Una vez listo, llamamos a nuestro perro y le animamos a encontrarlo con un: «¡Busca, Toby!». Y disfruta mientras observas cómo encuentra sus chuches.

Ten en cuenta que no hay una sola forma de resolverlo; cada perro encontrará su manera. Algunos romperán la caja, otros la pondrán del revés y otros irán sacando cuidadosamente las chuches una a una. ¡Descubre cómo lo hace tu compañero!
