Isabel Cuesta & Daniel Pérez Authors
Martosauriuss Illustrator

Beascoa, June 2021
Hardcover, 200 × 200 mm, 96 pp

A really cool mum shares her own illustrated stories about bringing up positive kids.

Cool Stories for Positive Parenting is a collection of five short stories (Claudia's Wish, Pop Gets Distracted, The Stool, Alonso's Lesson, and I'm a Baby) inspired by real-life situations from the author's own experience. Each story applies the principles of positive parenting to topics that touch us all: anger and temper-tantrums, making mischief, teamwork, the arrival of a sibling, and bad behaviour. Possible solutions can be found both in the stories themselves and in the sections with advice for families that accompany them.

Esa noche, como todas las noches, la mamá de Claudia fue a la cama un ratito con ella. Cuando estaban cerrando la persiana, Claudia vio un destello que cruzaba el cielo.

—Mira, mamá! Una estrella fugaz —dijo Claudia, emocionada.

—Es verdad. Piensa un deseo y no lo cuentes, porque, si no, no se cumplirá —le explicó su mamá.

Entonces Claudia cerró los ojos y pensó:

«¡Ojalá papá NUNCA
se case con otra!»

Familia Acogedora

Cuando Regue al hogar de una de familias acogedoras, aunque sea de visita al tiempo, siempre le das cuenta de que sus integrantes se sienten todos la vida repartidos para hacer un buen punto a ellas. Las Familias acogedoras son así aunque no se hayan hecho jamás, no sólo porque que se crearon de verdad la vida sino que están dispuestas, desde el primer momento, a que se sientan como en su propia casa. No hay un día cuando ellas, todos ellos... ¡juntos que hagan feliz!

¿Cómo se crean a una familia acogedora? ¡No sé! Depende de hacer precisamente cosas que ya se han puesto en práctica en la propia, se han hecho con fuerza en el suelo, se han abrazado muy fuerte y, a la que se abrazaron, se le han abrazado un capullo de amor y amor suficiente de no falta.

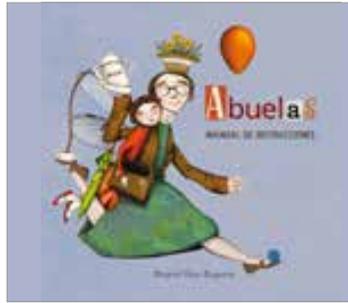

Los puntos de una familia acogedora como grandes cosas, lo más importante es que sentimientos de amor, respeto y protección. Y aunque son importantes, son secundarios al calor del hogar, cuando todos de un extremo pueden encontrar que al mundo se le va y allá, la seguridad que les da el afecto de los otros. Los puntos, aunque parecen hacer de casa, no sólo porque en otros lugares como a ellos sino incluso con seguridad de la gran vida abarrotada que a ellos les da.

The latest book from the creative duo that gave us The Witch Who Didn't Want to Be a Princess.

An original picture book about highly sensitive people.

Hugo, like all children, is both special and normal. What makes him special is his ability to see, hear and feel with greater intensity. If someone else is happy, Hugo laughs; but if someone else feels bad, Hugo gets sad. This hypersensitivity is a problem for Hugo, and he tries to solve it by putting on a set of armor. But when you close yourself off, you miss out on some of the best parts of life.

- Susanna Isern has published 50 children's books and sold over 120,000 copies.

Des que l'armadura havia arribat a la seva vida, les coses ja no l'afectaven; l'Hugo havia aconseguit el seu objectiu: SER FORT I IMMUNE A TOT.

Però la seva amiga Lila el trobava molt a faltar i la mare estava molt preocupada per ell. Era com si l'Hugo fos una altra persona; ara era insensible a tot i no semblava que li importés res ni ningú.

A més, havia fet amics nous. Els que abans se'n reien, ara l'acceptaven i fins i tot l'admiraven.

most precious things we possess.

As we grow up, the world makes us look outward, rather than inward at our own needs, emotions, reflections... and slowly, we lose our connection to our inner jewel.

Because no matter how many times we stumble, make a mistake or mess up, we shouldn't forget that if we have our inner jewel, we'll never be alone; we'll have ourselves for company.

—¿Ped... pedote? —preguntó arrugando la frente.

—No, no. Pe-dia-tra, un médico de niños.

—Ah —sonrió Ahmed—. Eso es mucho mejor que ser un pedote.

—Pues eso, que ya verás que cuando sea pedote... —Esa vez fue a Ibrahim a quien se le escapó la palabra sin querer, y Ahmed trató de aguantarse la risa apretando los labios y, al hacerlo, se le formaron unos hoyucos en ambos cachetes. Ibrahim continuó—. Me iré a trabajar de médico a otros países. Cuidaré de los niños allí donde vaya.

A Ahmed se le fue apagando la risa poco a poco.

—Y ahora, ¿a qué viene esa cara? —le preguntó Ibrahim.

—Es que..., si te vas, ¿no volveré a verte?

—¿Qué dices! Claro que volveremos a vernos. En cuanto me toque ir a alguna misión médica en África, te llevaré conmigo para buscar a tu elefante.

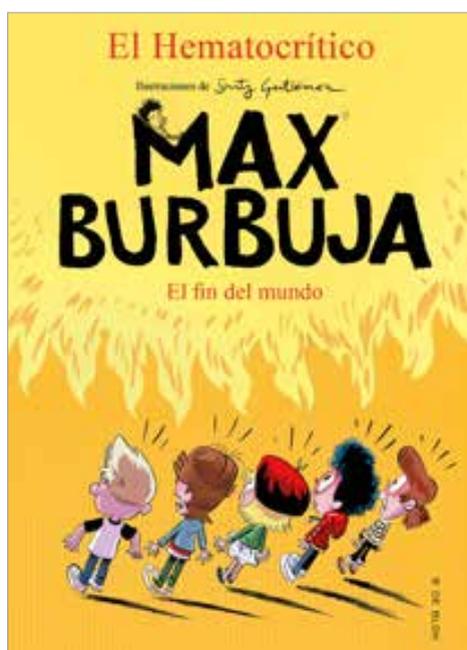

Ahmed miró de nuevo la semla-cicatriz que no podía tapar el hígote de su hermano y se sintió aliviado. Le preguntó cómo encontraría al elefante.

—Se que hay lugares donde cuidan a los cachorros de animales que se han perdido. Y, si no, le preguntaremos a los niños. Son los que más saben de elefantes. Los animales muy grandes y los pequeños se llevan bien, ¿no lo sabes? ¿Por qué crees que los de los cuentos de mamá salvaban a los pescadores del barco encallado? Porque los pescadores pedían a los niños que llamaran a los elefantes.

There's an autumn festival that includes pumpkin auctions and axe chopping contests. There is only one restaurant, but it might just serve the best hot chocolate in the world. There is a lake, of course, surrounded by mountains and thick forests, and the population is barely more than a thousand people.

It is, according to Vera, the perfect village to make a comeback. According to Maia, it is a lost corner of the world, among the mountains of Oregon. According to Martin, it is the best place to be born in and to grow up. And according to Kellan... For him, Rose Lake is the most beautiful and painful place in the world.

CAPÍTULO NUEVE LORELAINE

Le he contado a mamá lo de la cita con Miguel♥. No es que se lo cuente todo, pero mamá sabe que me gusta y he querido que supiera que he amanecido con él.

—Claro, por eso no estabas cuando me he levantado al baño. Me he asustado, pero cuando he visto que no estaba el perro, he pensado que te habrías ido a ver a amanecer o alguna cosa de esas.

—Sí, he visto amanecer. Pero con Miguel♥. Y ha sido muy bonito.

Conforme lo digo, me doy cuenta de que no he prestado atención al amanecer, ni al cambio de luz, ni a los colores tan bonitos que se ponen cuando sale el sol por detrás de la montaña de la sierra de Gata. Estaba tan contenta de estar con Miguel♥ que el resto era irrelevante.

123

—Vale. Pero la próxima vez, me lo dices en la cena. Y os preparo algo para comer por el camino.

—Me ha invitado a desayunar en el Barquero, mamá —digo como si me hubiera invitado en París.

—Yo creo que le gustas, Sara —dice mi madre con una sonrisa en la cara.

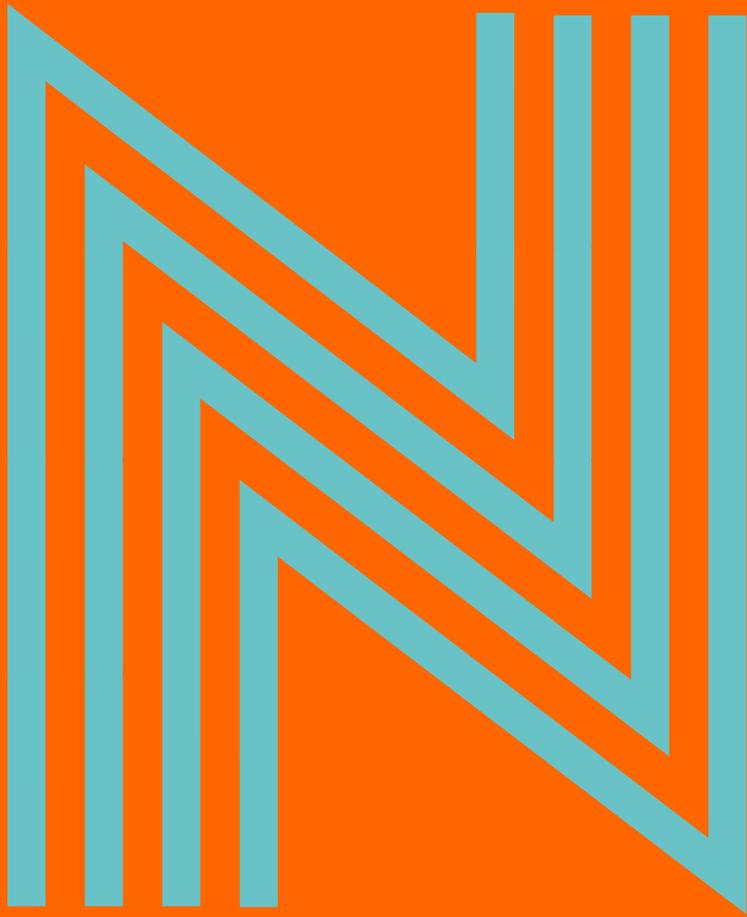

A mí también me agrada pensar que es posible que le guste a Miguel♥. Qué bonito es eso de gustarle al chico que me gusta. Qué bonito es haber amanecido con él. Me pongo nerviosa solo de recordar que hemos ido tanto rato de la mano. Sin tener por qué. Hemos entrado así incluso en el pueblo. Me la ha soltado cuando ya se ha dado cuenta de que podían vernos, que si no...

Mamá está terminando de hacer la comida. Hoy, callameres rellenos, un menú que nos gusta a todos, incluido Denver Bowie, aunque de esto no pilla nada. Nos lo comemos todo.

—¿Y alguna novedad digna de mención del colegio, Sara? A ver si eres capaz de contarme algo más que tu hermano, porque cuando se lo pregunto a él, siempre es un repertorio de sucesos que tienen que ver con las redes sociales y no me entero.

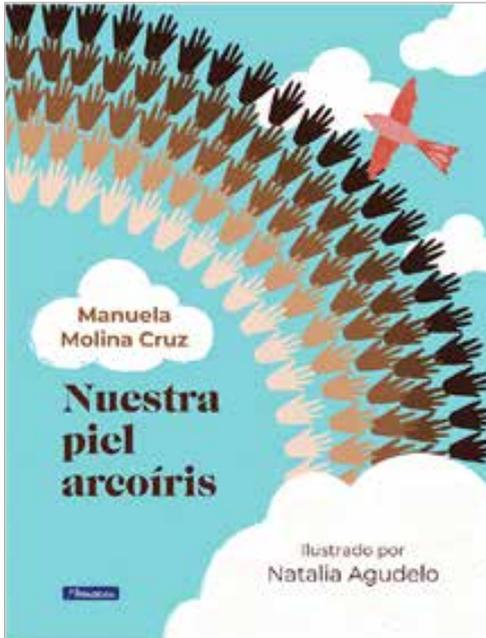

A mi madre le preocupa quedarse desfasada con las cosas de mi hermano. Pero si no se hace una cuenta de Instagram, no se enterará de nada. La vida de Lolo

Where did this come from? The origin of the inventions that changed history.

Money, the internet, vaccines, the paper this book is printed on, and even the glasses we drink water from were thought up by somebody. At some point in history, humanity developed objects and concepts that have made our lives easier and shaped the way we understand and experience the world today. José Antonio Lucero reviews the major discoveries and inventions that have made our historical trajectory possible. A perfect book for curious readers, with pop culture references and attractive, accessible language that provides shocking answers to the questions posed by young and old.

...día, porque técnicamente cumplirías años cada cuatro años, ¿sabes?

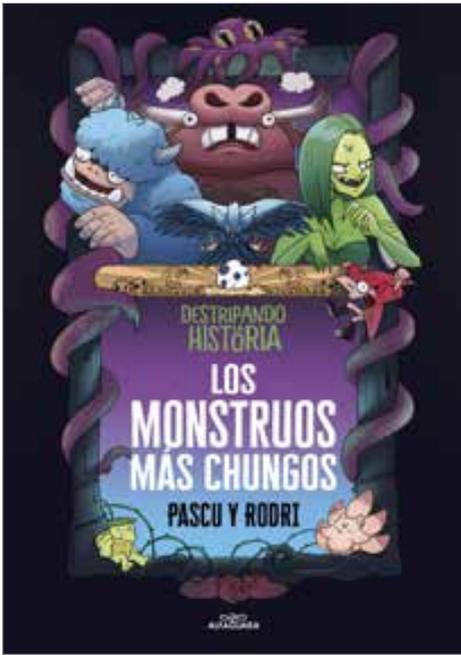

Lo importante es que en la actualidad seguimos usando ese mismo invento, el calendario, con el que hemos intentado medir el paso del tiempo desde hace milenios.

¿SABÍAS QUE...?

Los egipcios no fueron los únicos en inventar un calendario. Ha habido muchos en la historia, de los cuales tal vez el más conocido sea el calendario maya, en América. ¿Sabes por qué? Porque este calendario estableció el año 2012 como el último año, tras el que no vendría ningún otro. Si naciste en 2012 o alrededor de ese año, debes saber que mucha gente pensó que ese iba a ser el año del fin del mundo.

 Con apenas 17 años logré vencer a Oleg Korneev en la última ronda de un importante abierto de Madrid y lo recuerdo con mucho cariño porque me dio mucha confianza y siempre disfrute jugando contra Grandes Maestros fuertes.

¿Qué te ha aportado el ajedrez en tu vida?
 El ajedrez se ha convertido en una parte muy grande de mi vida. La oportunidad de viajar desde pequeño, tener experiencias, conocer amigos y hasta, lo que nunca creía que iba a pasar, convertirse en mi trabajo. Me gusta trabajar en algo que me apasiona y que además creo que es una de las actividades lúdicas más beneficiosas que se pueden practicar.

Si tuvieras que añadir una regla nueva en ajedrez, ¿cuál sería?

No tocaría nada del tablero o las reglas básicas, pero el sistema de competición creo que es mejorable. En la élite implementarían más torneos con eliminatorias.

¿Cuáles te parecen fuertes como ajedrecista? ¿Y tu punto débil?

Me gusta mucho el juego dinámico y profundizar en las aperturas. Mi punto débil seguramente sea la motivación y cada día caliento peor!

¿Que método de entrenamiento es el que mejor te ha funcionado en ajedrez?

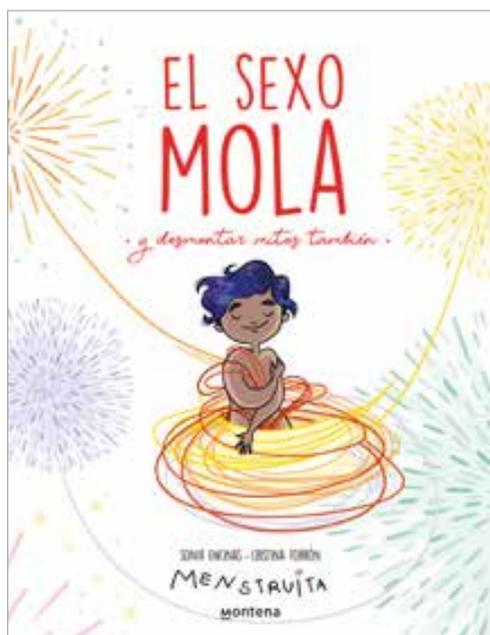

Sin duda resolver ejercicios que se adapten al nivel de juego que se tiene en ese momento.

¿Que consejo darías a un principiante que quiere mejorar en ajedrez?

Disfruta mucho del ajedrez, principalmente jugando pero también entrenándolo!
